598 b 22.

MORE JOYFULL NEWES FROM HVLL:

Being the Happiest Tydings that ever came to London, set in a Letter from Sir John Hotham and read in the House of Commons upon Monday last,

With the Answer of the House of Commons to the said Letter.

Likewise His Majesties Letter to the Queene in Holland, intercepted by the Earl of Warwick, and read in the House of Comemons upon Saturday, July 30. And the Joyfull Resolution of the Scots, concerning the Forces raised by his Majesty.

Hen. Elsing. Clar. Parl. D. Com.

August 2. Printed for J. Wels, 1642.

NEWES

FROM

HVLL:

Bearing the Happie and Joyfull Tydings that ever came to Loseby, from a Letter from Sir John Norton, and read in the House of Commons upon Monday last.

With the Answer of the House of Commons to the said Letter.

Likewise His Majesties Letter to the Queene in Holland, expressed by the Earl of Warwick, and read in the House of Commons upon Sunday July 30. And the Joyfull Newes of the Arrivall of the Scots, concerning the Declaration published by his Majesty.

29 OCT

Hen. Elsing. Cler. Parl. D. Com.

Anno 1642. Printed for J. Wells, 1642.

Better and Better

NEVVES

FROM

HULL;

Being the happiest and Joyfullest Tydings, that ever came to London.

TRVTH is the Daughter of Time, and Experience the best School-master, who hath long since taught many Men and States, the sad and wofull effects of an half-done work, and those Convulsions, and rending Pains which the Body of Great Britain now shewes, that the Ill Humours and Obstructions, and not yet fully purged nor dissolved.

God will have a through work done, if in

Read of redreſſing Evills, wee thinke to to tranſ-ſeat all by removing of perſons, and not things, well may wee hush our Troubles for a ſeaſon, but they will return with a greater violence; for beleeve it, let us flatter our ſelves as we pleaſe, any ſighted Eye may ſee, that although we think we have now paſſed the Equinoctiall and Straſfordian Line, and ſeeme to have gone beyond Canterburie.

Yet their Faction, and their undermining Agents (of all the Religions) grow daily more and more powerfull, and no doubt do labour an extirpation of all Parliaments, and men which will not think, ſay and ſwear to their Opinions and Practiſes.

But we have friends in the North, that will not ſuffer theſe perſons to remaine any longer here, neither will they ſuffer true Religion to be beaten down; but is Reſolved to finiſh the work which he hath for merly begun

Whereupon they having taken into conſideration the proceedings of the Cavaleers, which they conceive to be the Oppoſers of true Religion and the occaſion of theſe Diſtempers which hath now crept into the Bowels of this diſtreſſed Kingdom, hath ſet down their full Reſolution in theſe enſuing particulars.

1. THat they are Reſolved to maintain Gods true Religion againſt all Oppoſers whatſoever, and that they will ſpend spend their dearest Blood in the maintenance thereof.

2. That they are Resolved to assist His Sacred Majesty, and the High Court of Parliament, against the Disturbers of the Peace of this Kingdome.

3. That they will adventure and spend their lives and fortunes, in the Defence of His Majesties Prerogative, the Priviledges of Parliament, the liberty of the Subiect, and the Laws of the Realm.

These fore-going particulars, are the Propositions and Resolution of our well-affected Brethren in Scotland, wherein they do declare their love and affection to this Kingdom, being likewise Resolved to assist the King and Parliament against the Cavaleers, who commit many Outrages against the Inhabitants in divers Counties, contrary to his Majesties Command.

And will to the uttermost of their power, raise a certain Number of men, for the preservation of the Peace of this Kingdom.

Joyfull

Joyfull Newe from Hull.

VPon Monday last there was letters read in the Audience of both Houses, that came from Sir John Hotham, wherin he declared his happy victory, which he had obtained against the Cavaleers, and after some 3. or 4. hours skirmish they were forced to fly, slaying a great number of them, the Lord Rich being likewise dangerously wounded, and the Earl of Lindsey were also hurt, and also intimating, how that the ships which the Earl of Warwick sent to him do stand him in great stead, and have had many skirmishes with the Cavaleers who had fortified themselves at Paul, but after some fight, they bate down the Fortifications, and made the Cavaleers to flye.

Both

Both Houſes having rata the aforeſaid Leettes, after ſome Debate therupon, returned this Anſwer to Sir John Hotham, That for his good ſervice which he hath performed lately, they give him much thanks, being joyfull to heare of his happy Proceedings, inciting him to the continuance of the Parliaments confidence.

This is the effect and ſubſtance of the Parliaments Anſwer to Sir John Hothams Letter.

There was alſo a Report made at a Conference to the Lords, by the Earl of Eſſex, that he had received Letters from the Earl of Warwike, intimating that he had intercepted a packet of letters at the Sea, which were going to the Queen from his Majeſty, which was to this effect.

That his Majeſty deſired her to ſend over thoſe things he ſent for, and to be carefull therein, informing her alſo of his late Proceedings, and how confident he is of obtaining Hull, and that he hath ſo

so won the hearts of his Subjects, that there are scarce four in a County of a contrary mind. 264

The aforesaid particulars concerning his Majesty and his Royall consort the Queen, was read in the House of Commons upon Saturday last, with many more letters, but of no great consequence, being intercepted by the Earl of Warwicke, and by him sent to the Right Honourable, the Earl of Essex, Lord Generall of the Army, now setting forth of his Majesty, the Parliament and Kingdome. God of his great mercy protect him from all those Blood-sucking Parties, that seeks the extirpation and Ruine of the true Protestant Profession, and laws of the land.

Ordered that this be printed and published.

John Brown Cler. Parl.